National Non-Fiction November

Zoe Toft has asked me to include her good wishes for your NNFN celebrations and remind you to look out for your copy of You Rule! which will be being posted out to you this month.

Groups may like this too, to link to the month: <http://www.ordnancesurvey.co.uk/blog/2015/08/maps-join-adult-colouring-in/> (it says for adults, but it could equally be for kids). Do send photos of this and any other activities you have planned to the info email below.

Congratulations to Chris Routh

The SLA School Librarian of the Year Award is the School Library Association's prestigious honour to recognize the excellent work that is carried out in school libraries every day and highlight the best practice of those whose work is outstanding.

This year the Federation's newsletter editor is one of the three excellent librarians to join the Honour list for the SLA School Librarian of the Year Award 2015. We are all delighted that Chris Routh at Leighton Park School (www.leightonpark.com), a Quaker independent school in Reading with 440 day and boarding students aged 11 to 18 has been recognised as making a huge difference to the lives of the students and people she works with, igniting a passion for reading, setting students on a learning journey, teaching them essential skills, as well as supporting staff and reaching out to the wider community.

Her work will be celebrated at a ceremony held on Monday 5 October 2015 at the Royal Society for Arts, London. Award-winning author Kevin Brooks (Macmillan Children's Books) will announce the SLA School Librarian of the Year 2015. The celebrations will also include the announcement of the winner of the School Library Association Inspiration Award.

History update

I am collating the archive of newsletters and would be very grateful if anyone can send me either the paper copy which I will photocopy and return or an electronic copy for the following dates.
Spring 1990, Spring 1991 and Summer 1991.
